DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Suzuki et al (USP 5,573,831).

Suzuki et al teaches recording medium comprising a transparent substrate, a recording layer, a reflective layer and one or more protective layers. Said protective layer comprises an ultraviolet curable resin containing an organic and/or inorganic filler, wherein the fillers have water and oil absorbency.

Said ultraviolet resin comprises a composition containing at least one hydrophilic polymer, at least one hydrophilic monomer, at least one crosslinking monomer, and a radical initiator. The hydrophilic monomer can be chosen from the list in column 6, lines 6-54, wherein mono-acrylate monomers are taught. These monomers can be added in amounts from 20-98 parts by weight or preferably from 50 to 90 parts by weight. Suzuki et al teaches that the crosslinking monomer may include trimethylpropane triacrylate and others found in column 6, lines 55-63. Said crosslinking monomer can be added in amounts from 1-20 parts by weight. The radical initiator can be added in amounts from 0.1 to 10 parts by weight and are found in column 7, lines 17-28.

Suzuki et al teaches that the organic fillers should be water absorbing. Said organic fillers can be found in column 4, lines 56-end. These include acrylic resins, powders of lignin, protein or cellulose, polyvinylalcohol particles, and styrene. The inorganic particles can be found in column 5, lines 1-12. These include silica, talc, and mica. The fillers can be added in amounts from 1 to 80 parts by weight. Suzuki et al teaches, per the examples, that the fillers can have diameters ranging from 10 to 20 μ u.

The protective layer can be coated onto substrates, such as polycarbonate resin, polyacrylic resins, polyester resins, and inorganic substrates, such as glass. Suzuki et al teaches that the coating layers, (e.g., the recording layer, reflective layer, and protective layer) can be coated on the side opposite to the light incident surface of the medium, such that characters may be written directly on with a an oil-base or water soluble pen.

The inventions of claims 1-7 are read in the reference.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. JP 7-169100 to Suzuki et al.

5. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Sanza L McClendon whose telephone number is (703) 305-0505. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday through Friday 8:00 to 4:30.
